Leisure And Tourism Cultural Paradigms

Leisure has often been defined as a quality of experience or as free time. Free time is time spent away from business, work, job hunting, domestic chores, and education, as well as necessary activities such as eating and sleeping. Situationist International proposes that leisure does not evolve from free time, and free-time is an illusory concept that is rarely fully "free"; economic and ...

Mazanec argues that the replication of standard conceptual frameworks and measures inhibits progress in tourism research. Innovation has been constrained by the application of paradigms, models and methods drawn from other disciplines without questioning their applicability to tourism (McKercher, Denizci-Guillet, & Ng, 2012). Recently, some studies of travel behaviour explicitly question the ...
